

National Health SERVICES DIRECTORY

What is the National Health Service Directory (NHSD)?

The NHSD is a free national directory of health services enabling community members and health professionals access to reliable health information.

How to find a service

The Find A Service tab allows you to search for a particular service based on location and other service options.

Information available includes the organisation's contact details, opening hours, languages spoken and facilities available such as billing and accessibility options.

There are 16 General Practices across South Gippsland and Bass Coast and these are some of the languages/dialects other than English spoken in these practices:

Bengali	Hindi	Russian
Burmese	Mandarin	Sinhalese
Cantonese	Mauritian Creole	Spanish
Croatian	Nepali	Tamil
Farsi	Netherlandic	Ukrainian
French	Polish	Urdu
German	Punjabi	Vietnamese

To find out further information regarding languages spoken at a particular General Practice, please go to the National Health Service Directory website:

www.nhsd.com.au

