

Expressions of interest sought for local actors

Coal Creek is adding an exciting new virtual experience to delight locals and visitors, while enhancing the Park's educational programs and learning opportunities.

The Coal Creek Virtual Experience project will bring 10 Coal Creek stories to life on dedicated tablets. Council is inviting local actors, experienced or aspiring, to submit an Expression of Interest to portray one of these characters.

Filming will take place across three days in September by local filmmaker Seagrass Films.

Actors are encouraged to review the scripts and submit an Expression of Interest for one or more characters. A payment of $500 will be given to each successful actor with costumes provided.

For more information and to submit an Expression of Interest before Sunday 30 August, please visit:

Quote attributable to South Gippsland Shire Mayor, Nathan Hersey:

"This project is essentially about telling and sharing our local story and will provide another way for the community and visitors alike to become immersed in the history of Coal Creek and experience what makes South Gippsland so great."

"This is an excellent opportunity for our local actors to share part of our story and be recognised for sharing their talent with us."

"The funding for the project, provided through the Victorian Government Department of Education's Strategic Partnerships Program is appreciated. The value that can be given to our creative people whilst creating a more diverse local offering."
