Green Waste Amnesty Now Open

South Gippsland Shire Council's Green Waste Amnesty is now open until 31 December.

During the Amnesty South Gippsland residents can dispose of green waste free of charge at any Council Transfer Station.

This initiative encourages residents to prepare for the upcoming fire season by removing potential hire hazards following the rapid growth of spring such as excess vegetation, branches, leaves and garden clippings.

Some plant species and materials are not accepted under the Amnesty due to composting limitations. These include invasive weeds like blackberry and ragwort, as well as items such as palm fronds and tree stumps. A full list of exclusions is available on Council's website.

Alternatively, your weedy materials can be disposed of through the weekly kerbside FOGO collection service.

Green waste is shredded to produce mulch which is free for residents to collect for gardens, while stocks last.
